EDITORIAL NOTE.

I FEEL it my duty to inform the Architectural Profession that for the last three years Messrs. WALSHAMS LTD. have solved for me the difficulty of Photographing Architectural Originals in Colour intended for exhibition in the Royal Academy. Most Members of the Profession are prone to leave the preparation of the Royal Academy drawings to the last few days before sending-in time, and hence it has become an absolute necessity for us to obtain a perfectly satisfactory Photograph of the original without removing the same from its frame or glass cover. Messrs. WALSHAMS LTD. have stood by me in solving this problem in a highly satisfactory manner, and I cannot speak too highly of the way in which they have reproduced in Black and White and in Three-colour value some of the very difficult subjects given them.

HUGH W. MARTIN-KAYE, Editor.

The British Architect

A Journal of Architecture and its Accessory Arts.

NOW ISSUED AS A MONTHLY MAGAZINE FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE ART OF ARCHITECTURE. Price THREEPENCE.

From the "Journal of the Royal Institute of British Architects," 10th June, 1916:—

"'The British Architect,' after 43 years as a weekly publication, is now making its appearance as a monthly. Under Mr. Raffles Davison's able conduct 'The British Architect' has won for itself a unique position among the Architectural journals. It is refreshingly independent in its views, always frankly expressing its own mind on the vexed questions of the moment, and with a watchful regard to the dignity of the art and the well-being of the profession which it is its mission to advance. The first number of the new monthly promises well. The reading matter is doubled in quantity, and there are several pages of illustrations, stitched in and paged as part of the text, instead of being loosely inset as before."
